

BONDING

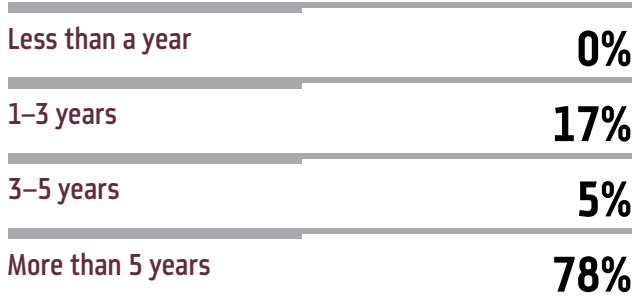

Orthotown's monthly poll helps you see how other practices operate—what's working, what isn't—and how dentistry is evolving. The information we gather helps us measure the trends of the profession. This poll was conducted on orthotown.com from Dec. 17 to Jan. 15.

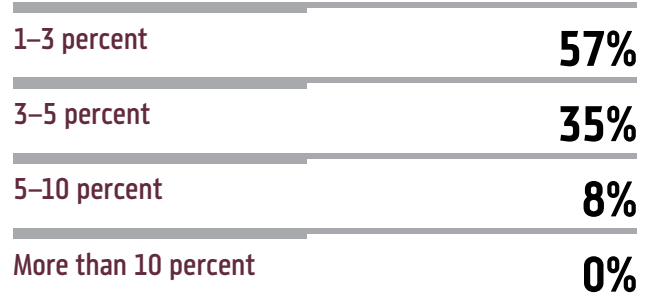

Who initially places the brackets on prior to the final alignment?

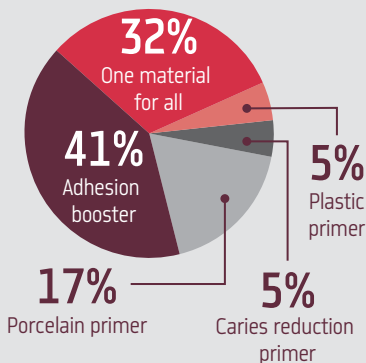

How long have you been using your primary (favorite) adhesive material?

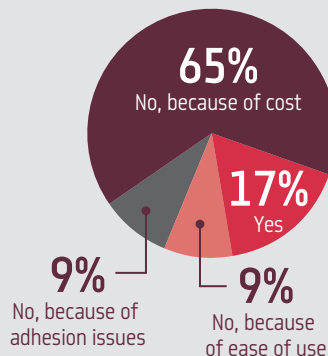

What do you estimate is your bonding failure rate?

Which adhesive material do you use most often?

Do you use prepaste brackets?

Has your bonding technique changed since you began practicing?
