

Henry Schein Orthodontics Announces 4th Annual European Carriere Symposium Will Be in Paris

Henry Schein Orthodontics has announced that its fourth annual European Carriere Symposium will take place Sept. 20–22 in Paris at the Hyatt Regency Paris Etoile.

The symposium will focus on the latest technologies and evidence-based treatment protocols. Renowned speakers will present innovative concepts to help diagnose and establish treatment plans, such as the “sagittal first” philosophy, the new Carriere SLX 3D complete bracket system and the Carriere Motion 3D appliances. They also will share proven strategies that increase clinical efficiency, shorten treatment time and help achieve long-term results.

The keynote speaker and inventor of the Carriere philosophy, Dr. Luis Carrière, will focus on evidence-based clinical solutions for the treatment of complex Class II and III cases. Carrière will be supported by the program chairman, Dr. David Paquette, who is also HSO’s lead clinical advisor and presenter of “The Evolution of Self-Ligation,” and featured speaker Dr. John Graham, who will talk about how sagittal-first will transform today’s orthodontic practice.

For more information, visit carrieresymposium.com, email ce@henryscheinortho.com or call 760-448-8712.

Roncone Orthodontics International Releases New JSOP Dates

Roncone Orthodontics International has released new dates for Just Short of Perfect 34 with the first session on Sept. 27. Just Short of Perfect (JSOP) is a one-year course, consisting of three sessions led by Dr. Ron Roncone at his practice and training facility in Vista, California.

The training course covers everything from the business of orthodontics including the Roncone philosophy, the PhysioDynamic system and marketing and communications specific to an orthodontic practice. Attendees take a detailed look at their individual practices and find areas of improvement to create more efficient, profitable businesses. Throughout the course, Roncone provides an extensive overview of small changes in the practice that can make a big difference in the bottom line.

Roncone has graduated more than 600 orthodontists worldwide since the first JSOP session. Each program graduate becomes a part of a group of orthodontists called the “Orthobarbarians.” The Orthobarbarian study club meets once a year, and is open only to JSOP graduates.

For more information, visit ronconeroi.com.

Industry News

Information in this section is culled from releases that were delivered to news@orthotown.com. All material is subject to editing and space availability.

TP Orthodontics Announces Scholarship Recipients at AAO Meeting

TP Orthodontics announced the winners of the 2018 Lindsey O. Kesling Orthodontic Resident Scholarship award in May during the AAO annual session held in Washington, D.C. The award is offered exclusively to residents of programs in the Great Lakes Association of Orthodontists. TP Orthodontics, in partnership with the GLAO, sponsors this yearly scholarship opportunity.

The scholarship is given in memory of Lindsey O. Kesling, whose great-grandfather, Dr. Harold D. Kesling, founded TP Orthodontics (which is still owned by the Kesling family). The fund was created to give back to the orthodontic community in a way that helps residents by easing a small part of their financial burden, while encouraging them to participate in humanitarian efforts.

The 2018 recipients included: Noha Orabi, Case Western Reserve University; Katherine Alexandra Pischke-Thomas, University of Michigan; Robert Schudy, Seton Hill University; and Jennifer Lynn Curran, Western University (CAN).

For more information, call 800-348-8856 or visit glao.org and under “About GLAO,” select “Resident Scholarship.”